'Western Week's' Plan Due

Committees Will Discuss Program Today

Western Week planning will get underway 10:30 a. m. today at the Cameron Chamber office with members of committees from the Cameron Chamber, Jaycees and Cameron Saddle Club attending.

Chamber Manager Jack DuBois has called the special meeting to outline plans, stunts and programming for the second annual Western Week promoting the Saddle Club's horse show.

Cameron Saddle Club officials have set July 15 - 16 for their annual horse show dates, DuBois said. And Western Week will be held about July 10 - 16 to boost the heralded Cameron show.

Last year most of Central Texas came to Cameron to see the numerous stunts that promoted the Cameron Saddle Club's annual horse show to its most successful year.

"We're hoping, with more time for planning, that this year's Western Week will be even better than last year," DuBois said.

The show parade and riding competition drew unprecedented interest from across Texas last July.

A two - mile parade highlighted pre - horse show activities that include quarter horse events and special riding events.

Last year beard growing contests, "public handings, shoot outs and stage robberies captured the imagination of literally thousands of onlookers.

Ol' 101 With F. M. L.

The recent heavy spring winds bring to mind a story that "blew in with the March lion."

It seems a man was walking down toward his barn one day, carrying a gallon jug.

"Before I knew it," he said, "there was a full grown rooster in the jug."

The wind was really blowing.

101 - 101 - 101

Another anedote came out of the Easter weekend.

A little boy, rising early one easter weekend morning, asked his dad if he could borrow his shotgun.

"My shotgun!" replied his father. "What on earth do you need a shotgun for?"

"But Daddy," exclaimed the youngster, "I'm going Easter egg hunting!"

101 - 101 - 101

The courthouse lawn is beginning to bloom with the new plantings of St. Augustine grass coming up.

Around Cameron, homes and lawns are being beautified both by nature and the work of the homeowners

There are many, many beautiful flowers now biossoming out around the city while the greening grass and trees are adding to the most attractive season of the year in Cameron.

All the spring growth helps to make a yard a thing of beauty and a house a home.

We recommend a drive through Cameron residential areas. You will definitely see an attractive scene.

101 - 101 - 101

Construction work continues in Milam's County seat. Cameron Compress is elevating a roof on one of their warehouses. And KofC Bowling Alleys are getting a roof prior to further construction there.

Broiler Show Set For April 30th

The Milam County Junior Broiler Show will begin at 8:30 a. m. Saturday, April 30, at the corner of Main Street and Travis Avenue, according to Chamber Manager Jack DuBois.

Contestants from across Milam County will be trying for trophies, place ribbons and cash prizes in the annual Chamber of Commerce event.

Cameron merchants will feature merchandising specials both Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30, DuBois said. They will be featured in a Double Dollar Day program both days.

About 85 contestants will enter five broilers each for judging by E. D. Parnell, of the poultry department of Texas A & M College. The youngsters will participate in an amateur judging contest prior to official judging, Lester Byrd, chairman of the Chamber poultry committee, said.

A banquet for contestants and sponsors 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 30, will climax the poultry show. Prizes will be presented that night to winners.

Two divisions, cockrels and pullets, will be judged. Top winners in both divisions and grand champions will be named.

Banquet tickets are included in the sponsor's fee, DuBois said, one for the sponsor and his contestant.

The chicks for the contest were presented to the 85 Milam County boys and girls about eight weeks ago.

The growers have been making progress reports to their sponsors, DuBois said.

The banquet will be held at the First Methodist Fellowship Hall in Cameron.

DuBois said that parents of the growers or any interested persons may purchase banquet tickets at the Cameron Chamber office for $1 each, not later than 5 p. m. Friday, April 29.

Last year the show drew heavy attendance throughout the day of the show. Poultry is one of the major agriculture industries in Milam County.

City Groups Slate Safe-Driving Clinic For Tuesday Night

A Safe-Driving Clinic is scheduled for Cameron, 8 p.m. Tuesday at the First Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Brad H. Smith, assistant to the governor and state Traffic Safety Director, Austin, will speak on "Legislation for Traffic Safety."

Sgt. Joe Perry, regional safety officer for the Department of Public Safety, will discuss "Causative Factors" and "Driver's License."

The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Chamber Manager Jack DuBois said a question and answer session will be held after the public information program on traffic regulations.

The clinic will be under the joint supervision of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, the Milam County Farm Bureau and the County Home Demonstration Council. Coffee and doughnuts will be served after the meeting.

Postmaster Lists Problems With Mailing

Although directory service for ordinary mail was discontinued by the Post Office Department ten years ago, letters continue to be received with the notation "Please give Directory Service" or illegible or incomplete addresses, according to Postmaster John Hays.

First - class letter mail which cannot be delivered because of insufficient address, or which fails for other reasons to reach its intended destination, is carefully scrutinized at the address office by experienced distributors before it is returned. This does not mean, however, that city and telephone directories are searched in an effort to effect delivery.

Prior to the abolition of directory service, mailers were often not aware that they were addressing their mail improperly, as the post office was, in most cases, able to locate the addressee through the use of directories. As a result, patrons continued to address mail improperly and the post office continued to give expensive supplement assistance. Now, however, mail addressed to carrier delivery offices which does not bear a complete street address or post office box number is usually marked "Insufficient Address" and returned. "The only exceptions", says Postmaster Hays "are those instances where the addressee is so well known that directory service is unnecessary."

Present regulations restrict directory service to perishable matter, parcels of obvious value, special services mail from armed forces overseas, and international mail.

"If guess work is used in addressing mail intended for carrier delivery, it stands very little chance of accomplishing its mission," cautions Postmaster Hays. "On the other hand, mail showing the full name of the addressee, the correct street address or box number, and of course, the city and state, has most of the basic equipment for reaching its goal."

WEATHER NOTES

Countians were looking for rain today as the second consecutive week of dry weather passed. Temperatures ranged from 45 to 89 in mild seven - day period of weather.

Milam Grand Jury Indicts Four Men In March Session

The March term of the Milam District Grand Jury Tuesday returned four indictments after five days of hearings.

Two indictments involved burglary.

The grand jury indicted Clarence Blaylock on charges of burglarizing an automobile belonging to Robert Titsworth on or about Dec. 4, 1959.

And a true bill of burglary was returned against L. T. Ward, Jr., for entering the home of Booker T. Williams and taking personal property.

The grand jury returned a third indictment against E. R. Malone who is charged with fraudulent disposition of mortgaged property of a tandem trailer, serial number 222033, on or about Dec. 10, 1958, belonging to Rodenbeck Auto Supply, Thorndale.

A fourth indictment was returned against Chaille Lee Brown on two charges alleged to have happened on or about August 10, 1959.

Increase Considered

Rate Request In

The City Council Tuesday deferred action on a rate - increase request from Lone Star Gas Co. for a 5.4 - cent raise in gas rates.

Charlie Burke, district manager for Lone Star Gas Co., presented a request in behalf of the company for the prompt approval of the 5.4 - cent increase for residential and commercial gas service.

Mayor Coleman Duncum recommended that the request be considered further before the council voted. And the council voted to table the request for further discussion.

Burke said the rate request, if granted, would mean a little more than one cent more a day to the average residential customer.

He cited statistics from the Cameron office showing the average residential customer pays $ 5.08 per month. And the increase would mean oly about 35 cents more a month to the customer, he noted.

Burke went on to explain that the Railroad Commission of Texas authorized the 5.4 - cent increase February 15 after 14 months of deliberation.

He said "that the request increase will only offset the increased cost of gas to the distribution division at the city gate."

The rate change requested by the company is the same amount of increase authorized by the Railroad Commission.

Burke said it is the first rate increase requested by Lone Star Gas Co. since 1952.

He also noted that 157 cities have already approved the rate increase request where the company has asked councils for consideration.

Burke said the increased cost of purchasing gas in the field is the "primary reason for increased expenses in delivering gas to the city gate." He said numerous large gas pipe lines have competed for all available supplies of gas in Texas, Lousiana and Oklahoma.

Griffith Named Mayor Pro Tem; New Terms Open

Four new city councilmen and a new mayor took the oath of office Tuesday at City Hall.

Sworn in as mayor of Cameron was Coleman Duncum, Cameron businessman, who took the oath of office from out - going Mayor Bassel Wilson.

Wilson also gave the oath of ofice to John A. Smith, E. L. Wied, Roy Griffith and Sam Houston. Smith and Wied will fill one-year unexpired terms while Griffith and Houston will serve full two - year council terms.

In a series of council votes, the new council:

--Named Earle Moseley Electric as light - replacement contractor.

--Re - elected Narvie Caperton, Earl Curtis and August Kunz to posts on the board of directors of the Cameron Housing Authority.

--Recommended that Joe Bass continue as electrical inspector for the city.

--Gave a vote of confidence to present city department heads J. B. Earle, John Andres and Alvin Hefft.

Council members unanimously approved leasing the city swimming pool to Make McDermott, Jr. and Ray Green for the summer. Both have completed life guard training while students at the University of Texas and Southern Methodist University respectively.

Snooks Mickalka, operator of the pool last year, also applied.

And the council voted to pay Texas Concrete Co. a budgeted $208 for 42 feet of 42-inch water pipe installed in a large underground main in East Cameron.

In taking the gavel as mayor, Duncum told the new council he would work with them in any way to keep the city's program going.

He urged that city measures be given full consideration unless they are of an emergency nature.

The board also heard Charlie Burke, district manager for Lone Star Gas Co., Cameron, request approval for a raise of 5.4 cent per thousand cubic feet over the present price of gas charged by the company.

Councilmen tabled the request for further consideration.

New Record Set At 18 AA Track Meet

The performances of Richard Inman, Belton's relay teams and Steve Malone highlighted 8 records that were shattered during the District 18AA Track Meet held here last Thursday.

Inman, Belton's star, reset two of his last year's marks when he threw the shot put and discus. All marks were just a year old, this being Cameron's second year in 18AA.

Malone ran the low hurdles in a 21.1 time, a second faster than last year's 21.2 set by Johnny Allen of Rosebud.

Belton's 440 Yard Relay team ran the quarter - mile in a 45.7 Last year's record was 46.6 set by Cameron's squad consisting of Doug Parker, Allen Dodson, Ed Lierman and Rodney Folschinsky. Belton's team members were George Whilhite, Clois Clark, Chuck Faith, and Bill Ward.

The mile realy squad clicked off a 3.39.8 for "Big Red"; team members were Anton Moy, Clark, Fath, and Johnny Blair. Last year's mark was set by Cameron with a 3.43.1. The team members were Dwayne Juergens, Allen Dodson, Rodney Folschinsky and Johnny Tepera.

Inman's shotput toss was good for 56 feet, 6 inches. Last year he was tops with 51 feet, 10 inches. His discus throw was 15 feet, last year's was 134 feet, 4 inches.

One of Inman's records fell, broken by teamate Anton Moy in the mile run. Moy's time was 5.03.,2 seconds and 3 tenths faster then Inman's time last year.

The 880 Yard Dash mark was redone by Neal Chancy of Belton with a 2.09 time as compared to last year's 2.10.3 by Roynos of Rogers.

Belton's George Wilhite edged out Ed Lierman in the 220 for a new record of 22.5. The old mark was 23.2 set by Lierman last year.

Reichert Makes Phi Beta Kappa

John D. Reichert, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Reichert, formerly of Cameron, has won membership in Phi Beta Kappa, top honorary scholastic society, at the University of Texas.

And he received PBK's $50 award for outstanding scholastic achievement. The presentation was made at annual Honors Day exercises.

When Phi Beta Kappa "passed over" Reichert in selecting new junior members last fall, he was suprised but not dismayed. He supposed he was not eligible until Spring. When his name didn't appear on the Spring list, he still didn't complain.

But someone else decided it was time to take action. Mrs. Jesse (Dorothy) Bartlett, mother of John's girl friend Linda, telephoned Dr. Marian Davis, PBK secretary, to ask why John was not on the list of new members.

Dr. Davis launched an investigation, special meetings were called, Phi Beta Kappa reopened its deliberations on the annual Spring award and Reichert's "all A" record on 107 semester hours of University work received its deserved recognition.

Guardsmen Plan Marksmanship Tests At North Ft. Hood

Guardsmen of Company C, 3rd Medium Tank Battalion, are scheduled to go to North Fort Hood this weekend for two days of small arms practice and qualification firing on the rifle ranges, the Milam County unit reported today.

Members of Company C will leave the Armory here in Cameron early Saturday morning and make the trip to North Fort Hood in their own vehicles. They will bivouac in the field overnight near the rifle ranges.

Besides practice and firing for record with M-1 rifles, sub - machine guns and .45 pistols, the Guardsmen are scheduled to go over the infiltration course if they have not previously had that training.

They will return to Cameron late Sunday afternoon.

Reporting on other developments Company C also said five more re - enlistments recently were made in the organization. The Guardsmen who re - upped for another three year term were listed as Platoon Sergeant William K. Leonard, Specialist - 4 Howard S. Drummond, Private First Class Leon R. Terry, Fabian J. Klecka, Jr. and Johnny A. Klecka. All are assigned to Company C's Tank Platoons except Fabian Klecka, who is assigned to the Mess section.

Retirement Policy Stands . . .

Board Elects Teachers

The Cameron School Board Thursday elected new officers, rehired most of the Cameron teaching staff and installed Milton J. Schiller and F. W. Vogelsang as new trustees.

The new board elected by acclamation: Max Howard as president; Dr. Gus Evans Jr., as vice - president; and Dr. David Shaprio as board secretary.

Also re - elected by acclamation was Mrs. Nina Wilkerson, school district tax assessor - collector.

The board re - elected all teachers except four teachers affected by a board policy of mandatory retirement at age 65 and assistant coaches Jerry Hopkins and Max Treadwell, who will be succeeded by new appointees under new head coach Bill Bates.

In considering the a year - old board policy of mandatory teacher retirement, board members exchanged varying views on the policy.

Dr. Shapiro moved to modify the early policy by deferring its enactment one year, then going on the recommendation of the administration in 1961 as to the qualifications of teachers reaching age 65. It was seconded by Schiller.

Dr. Shapiro said the recent school election was the first indication he had noticed where the people showed real interest in a specific policy of the board.

Dr. Evans and Niley J. Smith favored maintaining the policy since the board had studied the problem two or three months before making a decision last year.

Howard read letters from superintendents in Rosebud, Hearne, Rogers and Rockdale stating the school boards there had no compulsory retirement policy.

Dr. Sidney Richardson said he did not feel it was a trustee's job to set up a blanket policy and that competent teachers would be lost under a mandatory policy. And Schiller noted the school cannot afford hiring the top 50 percent of young teachers graduating in the state.

Vogelsang said the issue "would have to be faced sooner or later."

The board voted 4-3 to maintain the policy of compulsory retiremt of teachers at age 65.

Four teachers in the Cameron school system will be affected by the policy.

The board also approved a raise of $500 above Gilmer - Aiken pay scale for Harrison McLerran, Ada Henderson teacher and assistant coach.

And the board accepted the resignation of Pat Kelley, YHS vocational agriculture teacher, who is taking a position with the Texas Farm Bureau.

And the board hired Cornelius "Bo" Titsworth as his successor next fall. Titsworth served in that position at Buckholts High School upto last year.

Board members voted to review work loads of auxiliary school personnel, except secretaries at Yoe High School and the superintendent's office, for possible streamlining of work procedures in janitor and cafeteria departments.

Also approved was authorization for Bates, new head coach starting in August, to begin repair of some YHS football equipment.

Named to the school board of equalization were Buster Griffin, Frank Tomek and Robert Weems. Named alternates were Claude Triggs, George Childress and C. W. Hinyard.

Principle must be above expediency if our political system is to endure.

Under-25 Male Drivers Create Most Accidents

AUSTIN — One out of four male drivers killed in Texas traffic accidents -- city or rural -- is under age 25.

This fatality rate for male drivers under age 25 is nearly 14 times greater than the fatality rate among females in the same age bracket.

Male drivers under age 25 make up 12.05 percent of the driving public in this state while females under 25 account for 6.45 percent of nearly 4.4 million drivers in Texas.

On this basis, the weighted fatality rate for male drivers under 25 is still nearly 7 times greater than for the driving female under 25.

Department of public Safety records show that in 1958, 251 out of 980 male drivers killed in traffic accidents were under 25.

Female drivers of the same age listed as fatalities totaled only 19 about 17 percent of the female drivers of all ages killed in urban and rural traffic.

Females of all ages are 35.7 percent of Texas drivers -- males 64.3 percent.

Male traffic fatalities -- driver, passenger, and pedestrian of all ages -- outnumber female fatalities better than three to one.

Fifty - seven percent of the automobile passengers killed in traffic accidents are males. About 72 percent of pedestrian fatalities are males.

When a young man starts courting, he treats it as a serious business.

CORVAIR BY CHEVROLET
DRIVE IT! GET OUR DEAL!!!!

A pair of Corvairs recently recorded 27.03 and 26.21 miles per gallon in the 2,061.4-mile Mobilgas Economy Run. That's certified proof that Corvair skimps on gas costs. It saves other ways, too. Corvair is the only U. S. compact car that never needs antifreeze or costly radiator repairs. Come in and drive the compact car that outdoes them all.

Practically flat floor . . . real foot room for the man in the middle. Fold-down rear seat gives 17.6 cu. ft. of extra storage space. Four-wheel independent suspension for a smoother, flatter ride. Rear-engine traction . . . that comes with the engine's weight bearing down on the rear wheels.

You probably realize already that the mileage figures Corvairs recorded in the Mobilgas Run are higher than the average driver can expect. But because the cars met every kind of driving condition—rugged mountain grades, long country straightaways, congested city traffic—those mileage figures prove Corvair's inherent ability to save. Operating costs take a nose dive the day you take delivery of a Corvair.

Yoemen Baseballers To Compete In First Game With Hearne

Max Treadwell's baseball squad will get underway in their first baseball competition Friday, April 22 in Hearne against their local Indians.

Treadwell seemed fairly well satisfied with his bunch of recruits as he discussed the teams possibilities.

He believes his main strength will come from his battery, mainly big Ernie Bayer on the mound and Herbie Thweatt behind the plate.

Seven seniors are out for the team; they are James Fontaine, Thweatt, Ronald Brashear, Bobby Evans, Bernay Dusek, Griffin Barrett, and Billy McQueen.

Rosebud is the only town in district that will not sport a baseball team. The Yoemen's main competition will rest in Belton, although Hearne has made a couple of good showings. Rogers is the other district squad.

Bayer will handle the squads backed by freshman hurler Bob Dymke. Spud Thweatt is the number three hurler and infielder Pat Dillon can be counted on if needed.

First base is charged by Bayer when he's not pitching. Southpaw Chris Gay and Fontaine will back him up. This is Fontaine's first year out and will probably be used primarily as a pinch hitter.

Treadwell expressed a strong desire to use his senior boys as much as possible but that number of under classmen are crowding them for their position.

Second base is well under control with Pat Dillon at the bag. This is the junior's third year at the position and is rated as a good fielder and clutch hitter. He's backed by Mike Mikula.

Ronald Brashear is the best hitter on the team and a capable third baseman. It's the senior's first year out for the team. The versitile Dymke will play behind him.

Bobby Foster, the teams number 2 hitter is currently hitting the ball at a .444 clip in practice games and is the number one shortstop.

Griffin Barrett, a real hound on high balls in left field will start there Barrett's a senior and past letterman. He's batting a .250.

Berney Dusek, senior is headed for the starting center field position but is being closely crowded by Freshman Melvin Provasik. Treadwell considers Dusek and Bayer his best base runners.

Chris Gay could be the starting right fielder if he's not at first. Billy McQueen, despite an injured knee isn't out of the running.

Treadwell has two young infielders in James Anderle and Marcellano Flores he hasn't placed yet. Both are capable fielders and place hitters.

Robert Eickenhorst is the youngest boy out and will serve along with Dan Brashear as the team's best all - around utility man.

Budgets Bring Values Into View

By V. R. Pittman
Colored Co. Home Dem. Agent

Earning a living has two sides to it. Earning is important, but its purpose is to make living more worth while. Money is earned to be spent, either immediately or at some future date. When you spend your earnings you buy more than material things like bread and shoes. The decisions you make each day change the money you spend into the necessities or comforts of daily living. It can also bcome the beauty of living, a support in misfortune, an education for children, security in retirement or anything else you choose.

Spending decisions you make are an expression of the values you hold. Values are the guiding principles which we develop through experiences and learnings gained at home, at school, or in our community. They affect our thinking and become a means for rating what we like, what we do, and what we want to be.

One of the wonderful things about our democracy is that each person is free to form and to hold his own values in living. Searching our individual goals which have their basis in the values we hold provides incentive in managing money well and helps to use money in such a way that it will provide the greatest beneift and satisfaction.

Budgets offer a unique opportunity for guiding living standards and for developing values. When children are included in family budgeting session they not only acquire sound attitudes about money, but working together gives them a sense of belonging, a regard for family responsibility, and an appreciation of the values in family living.

Teen - agers say that money management helps them to set their own standards of living and to make personal adjustments to their own group. It also makes it easier for them to understand their parents problems, and give them practice in spending money during school days which make them more intelligent in solving toe more complex problems of the future.

Sen. Jarrard Secrest

Jarrard Secrest Seeks Re-election To State Senate

State Senator Jarrard Secrest has announced that he is seeking re - election to the Senate seat he has held since 1953. He represents the 13th District of Texas, made up of Milam, McLennan, and Bell Counties.

"During my eight years of service in this position, I have tried to represent this District with dignity, fairness, and with what abilities I had," said Secrest. "Our state continues to have critical problems, and I believe my experience during the last two terms has equipped me to be most helpful in their solution," Senator Secrest continued.

Secrest has served on many of the major Senate committees during his tenure, including the powerful State Affairs and Finance Committees. He served on two General Investigating Committees, which revealed the insurance scandals and other irregularities.

Senator Secrest has been active in civic, church, and fraternal groups during and prior to his Senate service, having served as president of the Temple Chamber of Commerce since taking office. He has also been active in the affairs of his district Bar Association, having served as its president.

"The fiscal crisis in state government shows no signs of letting up," said Secrest in making his announcement. "One who has the resposibility for spending must do so with great caution, but he must also see that Texas continues to progress with the services and facilities its people need, the Temple senator pointed out. "One must also have the courage to tax when taxes are needed, and the good sense to see that taxes are levied according to the principal of ability to pay, and finally must have the vision to keep new taxes at the very minimum so that business groups and the people generally shall not be unduly burdened, "The Senator's statement added.

Secrest has reported to the people of his district through the medium of television each week the Legislature has been in session. He was the first member of the Legislature to make regular TV reports to his constituents and this weekly series has proved popular in the Senator's district and beyond.

A graduate of Southwestern and Baylor Universities and a former student of the University of Texas, Secrest has practiced law in Temple for the past fifteen years. He is married and the father of two sons, Jerry 15, and Robert 12.

"I trust my record will merit the continued confidence of the people of this District and that they will respond favorably to my bid for re - election," Secrest concluded.

Herman Yezak Seeks Re-election As Representative

Herman Yezak submits his record and platform to the voters of Milam and Robertson Counties for re - election as State Representative in the primary election on Saturday May 7.

In offering himself for re - election, Yezak points to his record of active and dependable representation. The record he had maintained through the years has been for the welfare of the people of Milam and Robertson Counties.

Yezak believes that the xiticens of his district deserve a restatement of his platform on issues that will comfort the next Legislature. The greatest problems will be economy and taxation.

Yezak believes that the citiztax and any unnecessary taxes He will favor a fair and equitable tax system favorable to both the people and industry much of which can be passed to out of state users. He will continue to stress economy in state spending.

For farmers and landowners he pledges to continue to support legislation dealing with soil and water conservation, REA, safeguarding tractor gasoline refund and the farm road program and other important farm and ranch problems. He will continue to support reforms in state insurance laws beneficial to policyholders.

It is his genuine desire to continue to represent people of all segments of income, including professional people, farmers and landowners, wage earners, businessmen, veterans and their dependents, welfare recipients and others. He will work for medical payment to the needy receiving welfare assistance.

He favors improvements in our education systems, including the Hale - Akin recommendations for schools, teachers and bus drivers. He believes our children deserve the best educational system possible.

The problems that will appear at the next session of the Legislature are too numerous to mention. The record that Yezak has compiled in the past is a basis on which to judge his future action. His experience and senority in the House brings numerous advantages to the district he represents.

To solicit every voter personally in this two - county district is impossible during this early primary election. Yezak asks that voters consider this message as one method of soliciting their vote and influence.

"To serve the people of Milam and Robertson Counties is a privilege for which I am very thankful," Yezak stated. He concludes "I am deeply interested to serve as your state representative for the ensuing term and I will greatly appreciate your consideration, vote and support."

"Under 21"

by Dan Halligan

Dear Dan: My parents just started letting me date last month when I became 14. I like a certain boy quite a lot but never sit close to him when we go out in his car. My friends say I should but I just don't know. My mother says to do what you say. Will you please help me? Thank you very much.
Marlene.

Dear Marlene: I think the closeness your friends are referring to should be reserved for couples dating steady. However, don't jam yourself against the door on the passenger side of the car. Sit in the car as you normally would if your mother or father was the driver. The boy may not appreciate this as much as sitting close to him but he's the driver and both hands should be on the wheel at all times.

Dear Dan: I'm a girl of 17 and would like to know whether or not to speak to boys if we haven't been properly introduced. For example, if I'm walking along the street and some boys I know by sight are sitting in a parked car, should I talk to them for any length of time: My other question is about dancing. Is it all right to accept a dance with a boy without first being introduced? My whole crowd does this but my father says they're wrong. He says introductions should come first.
Thank you for your help.
Miss Perplexed.

Dear Miss Perplexed: If you know the boys in the car well enought by sight and you're sure they at least krow you on that same basis, it's all right to smile and say "Hi." However, don't go beyond that. A girl doesn't look very ladylike leaning into or standing ourside of a car containing boys and carrying on a conversation, even if one of the boys is her steady.

Dances are different than sidewalk meetings and I think it's perfectly proper for you to accept a dance with a boy you don't know provided the boys ask you in a nice way. Dances are one of the best means for teen - age boys and girls to become better acquainted and I 'm all for them. By the way, that's how I met my wife. One final word, no matter how nice a boy may seem, don't accept a ride home with him. If he wants a date with you, he can ask you at the dance and then come to your house another evening.

Legion Post Endorses Hospital Project

The American Legion Hardy Post has voted to support a drive for construction of the new Newton Memorial Hospital, according to John A. Schmidt, adjutant.

A committee was appointed to work with the Chamber of Commerce, advisory board of directors and other groups supporting the drive, Schmidt said. The unanimous decision came at an April 12 meeting, he said.

A group of negro citizens endorsed the Newton Memorial Hospital building drive April 12.

Dr. W. R. Newton explained the needs of the Newton Memroial project and showed proposed sketches of the hospital.

The meeting was held at Cameron Grove Center. Lewis Johnson was chairman of the meeting.

Bidders Will Submit Sealed Proposals

Bidders on the Newton Memorial Hospital construction job will submit sealed bids to the board of directors when they are called for, board officials said this week.

B. M McMillion, board president, said that many bidders will be invited to bid on the project and each must make performance bond guaranteeing the low bidder will accept and complete the construction work.

The hospital architect and a representative of the U. S. government will be on hand when bids are opened, McMillion said. The government representative will tabulate all bids as they are opened.

NATION

Fidel's Perplexed . . .

It appears that Cuba's Castro has finally alienated enough of his countrymen to draw an ultimatum for a Communist clean-up of his government.

This puts Castro in a peculiar position. The ultimatum, if followed for fear of another revolution, would reach as close as Castro's highest aides who are at least Communist sympathizers.

A fellow by the name of Fernando Lopez Del Toro, self designated secretary of a "Cuban anti-Communist rebel army," issued the ultimatum from Miami, Florida. He claims there are 5,000 ex-Castro revolutionaries living in exile who will back the ultimatum with action within Cuba.

For Castro, the man who rants on television for four-hour stretches and personally arrests "anti-revolutionaries," this is a new problem.

If he denies the threat, he may find his government fighting the same battle he so successfully waged against Dictator Batista.

If he purges Communist sympathizers, he may find his support melted away. Much of his revolutionary support has disappeared since promised free elections have not materialized and purges of private property occured.

Fidel's folly may well become his finale.

COUNTY

Value Of A Census . . .

The current census is important to the future of Cameron and Milam County.

The Waco District Census Bureau has estimated that the six-county area, including Milam County, will have about 353,000 people. Other counties in that area are: Bell, Bosque, Falls, McLennan and Coryell.

The 1950 census showed that Cameron had 5,052 residents while Milam County had 23,585 citizens.

The total for Cameron is expected to be in the neighborhood of 7,000 while the county population will probably show about the same totals as in 1950. No figures have yet been announced for any areas of the six-county district.

Why are census figures important to an area?

First, they show the latest trends of population and development when compared with interim checks and previous decennial totals.

From these comparisons, everyone concerned with his future can see what is developing in a given area. And area leadership can study the results as a basis for future decisions in government, business and cultural problems.

Second, the more exacting information sought by census takers can indicate need and improvement already taken place in "sample" homes and families.

When totaled, national census figures are the basis for just about every type of planning and evaluation problem.

Finally, it is a 10-year review of an area's history in figures, which when put to intelligent analysis, can be used to good advantage for prospective growth.

These are only a few of the obvious values of a good census. There are certainly innumerable uses for census figures, as many as there are people to use them.

We feel sure that everyone in Cameron and Milam County wishes to get as accurate a count as possible. A great deal can depend upon the completeness of the 1960 census.

Legislators Face Difficult Tax Year

By Vern Sanford

First it was $100,000.00 homes for college presidents. Now it's $36. doorknobs for the State Office Building that have cost - conscious legislators blowing their tops.

Legislature went through an arduous seven - months tax raising session last year to scrape up enough money to keep state services going. Despite all the problems and criticisms they weathered, it wasn't enough. Now they are face to face with the prospect of another deficit next year and the need to raise more taxes.

It is in this not - so - rosy setting that the House Committee on Saving Taxes is checking into how state money has, and is being spent. When they heard that the terrazzo floors in the brand new State Office building had cracked, committee members decided to investigate further into the $3,793,000 building.

They learned that the air conditioning system vibrated excessively, that the building had 1,000 elaborate door knobs, costing $36 apiece; and that there were telephone booths in the hallways lined with expensive marble. Some offices had no doors.

They noted that the Texas Employment Commission Building, just across the street and to the casual observer equally as handsome, cost only $14.33 per square foot compared to $17.40 for the State Office Building.

Cracked floors now are removed and replaced by the contractor, at no cost to the state. Efforts are under way to smooth out the knocks in the air conditioning. Legislators are unhappy at the lack of supervision and inspection while the building was under construction.

H. R. Nieman, who became director of the State Building Commission after the building already was built, told the committee he agreed the structure was probably wasteful in some features. He attributed this to inadequate supervision. Steps are being taken to watch this more closely on future projects, he said.

RAW MATERIALS

Gov. Price Daniel has promised to have two sets of ingredients ready when the State Finance Advisory Council meets May 16 to begin shaping up a long-range fiscal policy for the state.

Daniel will present to the committee:

(1) A 10 - year projection of budgets of agencies which represent the state's main money needs schools, highways, hospitals and welfare.

(2 Five suggested new tax plans.

He does not intend to make the five tax plans public before the committee meeting, said the governor, because he doesn't want them to get involved in the current political campaigns.

It is certain that the governor's proposed tax plans will not include a general sales tax or income tax, both of which he had long opposed. However, he said he will ask the committee to look down the road and "report honestly whatever you find and let's see how long we can go without sales or income taxes."

HOUSTON U ASKS AID

Now under consideration is whether the University of Houston should become a fully state - supported college.

Commission on Higher Education will hear a report on its staff findings probably in October and make a recommendation to the Legislature, pro or con, next year.

In making their bid before the Commission, Houstonites said the state would get a $22,000,000 institution with a 275-acre campus, all free of debt. In return, it would need to spend about $4,000,000 a year for operating it.

Increased costs have forced the school to raise its tuition fee to $630 a year and more, with a resulting drop in enrollment. Tuition at state colleges is only $100 a year.

Council of State College President opposes the move on grounds that the state cannot afford to spread its support any thinner with out a damaging drop in quality.

Houstonites point out that their county had 10 per cent of the state population, pays 20 per cent of state taxes, but had no state college in the area.

Johnson, Poage Discuss Bills

Senate . . .

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson said Sunday enactment by the Senate of a civil rights bill was a "triumph for national unity."

Johnson, in a radio report recorded for broadcast in Texas, said the civil rights bill is a "victory for fair play."

It establishes the voting rights of all qualified citizens, but it does not treat the South as a conquered, outlaw province. . . . It is a triumph for grown - upness in our national politics and, most of all, it is a triumph for national unity at a time of great peril and of great opportunity in a world which is hurlting toward tomorrow and which has little time for yesterday," he said.

Johnson pointed out, "There have been those who determined that we should do nothing about civil rights. There have been those who were determined that we should undertake so very much that the end result could only have been noting at all."

Enactment of the bill came because a large majority of the Congress adopted a "policy of moderation," he told his listeners.

"Moderation," Johnson said, "means advance -- sensible advance, obtainable advance -- under the one great imperative of our system, which is that we keep this as a government operating by the consent of the governed.

House . . .

By Cong. Bob Poage

About two months ago I joined with some twenty Members of the House in the introduction of a general farm bill intended to allow producers to work out stabilization programs for each crop. Of course, these programs which would be developed by farmer committees, working with the Secretary of Agriculture, would have to be built within the guidelines established by Congress.

Actually, we proposed that the farmers could use any "tools" or methods they wanted so long as they did not force the Government to acquire title to any more commodities and so long as they did not commit the Government to spend more than 10 per cent of the value of the crop on support.

The Agriculture Committee has held hearings both on the general bills and on a number of other bills dealing especially with wheat. As was natural, a great many objections were raised as to details and many helpful suggestions were made -- both in the Committee and from other sources. The authors have tried to improve the plan and on yesterday I introduced a revised bill.

In this new bill we retain the idea of letting farmers work out their own programs (basic democracy). We retain the protection to the taxpayers -- a fixed limitation on the amount which can be spent on any program (10 percent of the value of the crop). We are absolutely stopping the accumulation of further surpluses under any new program (we prohibit any programs which involve further Government acquisition of surpluses). I think the above alone should justify the bill. We assure farmers of a "fair" price -- equal to 90 per cent of parity. We require a balance between demand and supply — and we provide for controls in units of production -- pounds, bushels and bales -- rather than in acres. We help farmers to achieve this balance without too much economic hardship by making "Payment in Kind" to encourage the retirement of unneeded acres now in porduction. We recognize the rights of consumers by assuring against a shortage of food and by setting up authority for the purchase of food for needy people and charging the costs to "Welfare" and not to "Agriculture."

Finally, the new bill contains a section which would establish a wheat program to be in effect until wheat farmers changed it. It would balance demand and supply by reducing wheat allotments by 25 per cent. It would support wheat prices at 85 per cent of parity. This is 5 per cent less than last year's wheat bill provided. We are trying to compromise with the President, who said 90 per cent is too much. At the same time we protect wheat growers' income by raising the "In Kind" payments on the acreage taken from their allotments from 33 per cent to 55 per cent.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

I'm a small - town guy. (Which is scarcely news to anyone who knows me.)

The pace of life is such in smaller communitites that people have time to sit and visit -- or at least stop long enough on the street for a little conversation.

For a year, I had an office in a building in Dallas. Every now and then, I'd ride in the elevator with another tenant. All I knew about him was his name and that he was an attorney. One day, his obituary appeared in the paper and there was the information that he had been the private secretary of Govrnor Colquitt and of Senator Culberson. What a wealth of political incidents was lost when he died! In a small town, I would have known his background and would have obtained some of those stories.

In one town where I used to live, there was an attorney who had served in the War with Spain. There was another lawyer who was so old that he had held county office as a Populist. The county judge had obtained a law license by takisg a correspondence course. The county judge - at - law had graduated from Cumberland Law School in Lebanon, Tenn. The county attorney had played in the line for the University of Texas in a Thanksgiving Day vicotry over A & M.

Then there was an oil man, who, year before, had drilled on the famous 101 Ranch in Oklahoma; a justice of the peace who was a Confederate veteran; and a sturdy farmer who didn't look within 20 years of his age and had taken part in the last Indian fight in the county. The founder of the town had been a surveyor and had made surveys in far West Texas when one would do well to keep on the lookout for bands of redskins.

The sheriff was a former cowboy. The uncle of the football team's star player had once carried a bale of cotton on his back across a street. The owner of an electric shop had been a professional baseball pitcher. The proprietor of the confectionery, a naturalized citizen who was a native of Greece, had appeared as a "rustler" and as a deputy in Western pictures in "silent" days.

Two brothers had a brother who was commander of the United States Marine Corps and their father was a Congressman. They were Quakers.

There was one man who had a hobby: It was killing rattlesnakes by hitting them with rocks. The driver of a laundry - wagon had a superb tenor voice and was the singing star of the annual Elks minstrels; and the quiet manager of the light company office never have been suspected by a stranger of having a talent which made him a "riot" as a blackface comedian in that same show.

The manager of the gas company's office was struck by lighting and survived. An oil operator had been a career army man, having served in the Philippines, in China, on the Mexican border and, during World war I, in France. A doctor had owned a large sugar plantation in Mexico but one night bandits made an attack and burned his home down, so he and his family returned to the United States.

Interesting, weren't they? A really gifted writer could take almost any one of them and write a novel about him. Very likely, I rub elbows in the city with people just as interesting -- if there were only the opportunity to find out.

New Range Cattle Test Aid To Brucellosis Program

COLLEGE STATION — A new method for testing range cattle is resulting in major savings to beef producers in their efforts to eradicate brucellosis, an important livestock disease, according to Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian.

The method is based on use of a screening - type blood test of cull and dry cows on the way to or during slaughter. Animals tested each year must equal 5 percent said. Another important requirement is that owners vaccinate at least 80 percent of all eligible calves each year.

Successful use of this test to recertify Benton County, Washington, as a modified - certified brucellosis area marks a major advance in the battle to eradicate this costly disease. The county was officially recertified effective March 15.

THIS WEEK:

Reads Newspapers During Working Hours And Learns Some Startling Facts

Dear editar:

I couldn't be expected to know anything reliable about international affairs, half the time I don't even know what my neighbors out here are doing, but I have come to the conclusion that the biggest or wealthiest nations are not necessarily the brainiest ones.

For example, I read in a newspaper yesterday morning - some people think a farmer shouldn't read a newspaper in the day time, only at night when it's too dark to work or maybe during the noon hour, but what people think never has bothered me. I don't even let what I think bother me -- that some of the smaller nations, judged to be hard up by the United States, have been borrowing money from us at 3 per cent interest, then investing some of that money in U. S. government bonds paying 4½ per cent, making a net profit of 1½ per cent on our own money.

These small countries may not have any satellites circling the globe, but you'll have to admit they ain't so dumb.

Or take even England. England's not realy as big as it used to be since sailing ships no longer are a measure of a country's power, she doesn't have any satellites up and as far as I know doesn't have any plans to, but I noticed in the same newspaper I was reading yesterday morning that England still has some brains left.

For example, she has given up plans to build her own rockets. The Defense Minister over there announced England was abandoning her two - billion - dollar rocket program, because it was too expensive and besides she had made a deal to buy the things from the United States. Under the new arrangement, England will buy the rockets from us, after we iron out all the kinks, then attach a nuclear warhead in the ends and be set up in the defense business, at about a thenth of the regular cost. I don't know where England will get the money to buy these rockets, but some Englishman will think of something. By George, he'll say, I've got it, how about a loan from Washington to buy U. S. rockets with?

Meanwhile, England is sending Princess Margaret to her wedding in a buggy built in 1836.

In these days of inflation and high living expenses, a nation, like a man, has got to tighten down and think ahead, cut corners, where he can.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Clothing Workshop Held At O. J. Thomas

Saturday, April 9, 1960, a 4-H adult and member Clothing Workshop was held at the O. J. Thomas High School from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. with 4 adults and 18 4-Hers attending.

The adult leaders had received training prior to the workshop and were able to do an efficient job in teaching construction techniques to the 4-Her', by means of lecture and method demonstrations.

Visual aids were used by V. R. Pittman, Negro County Home Demonstration Agent of Milam County, as a means of stimulating interest and simplifying construction techniques.

The visual aids used were slides obtained from the Extension Service College Station entitled: Starting rom Scratch, Construction Ahead, and Making a Girls Dress.

As a result of the efficiency of the adult leaders and the effectiveness of the visual aids, the workshop was successful.

Improving Swine Is Very Important

By J. D. MOORE
County Agent

The modern homemaker is not particularly interested in the swine producer's plight when she gets behind the "pushing cart" in a modern self-service food market according to Bernard Ebbing, Livestock Service Department of Rath's Packing Co., Waterloo, Iowa. You will notice too that this shopper, the famous American homemaker, is pushing her cart through a colorful and musical atmosphere. She's doing something in which she has confidence — at least in her own mind she's buying more food and better meals for the family per dollar than anyone could possibly do.

Though this happy little homemaker may be a sweetheart to Dad and a loving mom to her children, she's a "Tiger" when she gets behind that grocery cart. She buys your product because she hasn't found a better one. Given the opportunity, she will grab something better or newer, something tastier or easier, something quicker, a handier package, a better color or a better buy.

How does this relate to pigs and pork? Just this way - it means that pork must be promoted better than competing items.

WHAT WE KNOW — Genetic improvment in swine is accomplished by permitting superior individuals to produce more offspring than the less desirable ones. This process is called selection.

Variations among pigs is great. If one wanted to find variation in two - hundred pound hogs, he could find hogs that varied from 26 to 33 inches long and from .8 to more than 3.0 inches in average back fat thickness. In area of loin eye muscle at the tenth rib, variation from 1.75 to more than 6 sq. inches of lean meat, 30 to 40 per cent variation in dressing percentage. Variation in rate of gain from 1.0 to 2.0 lbs per day and 56 day weaning weight variations from 180 to over 500 lbs.

What is being done in Milam County to select better swine? Demonstrations are being conducted under the direction of the county swine committee to select the more desirable breeding animals by probing for back fat, checking weight for age and entering pigs in the State Carcass demonstration for a feed conversion and cut-out test.

This week a probing demonstration was held on the Henry W. Abel farm in the Sharp community to select gilts to be kept in the swine herd.

The four gilts selected were 171 days of age, average weight was 209 lbs., average back fat thickness 1.25 inches and all gilts were from the same litter. They were sired by a male owned by Henry Richter, local swine breeder.

Mr. Abel and Mr. Richter entered 4 pigs in the recent carcass test at A & M College with very favorable results. Richter's two hogs had the following average: daily gain 2 lbs; dressing percentage 72.9, length 29 inches, average back fat thichness 1.45 in., and a loin eye of 4.09 in.

Abels two hogs averaged: daily gain 1.84 lbs., dressing percentage 71.2, length 29.2 inches, average back fat thickness 1.45 inches and a 4.13 loin eye area.

Through this prgram, swine breeders are "inching" their way toward their chosen goal with gains made each generation resting on the progress made by the previous generation. Through this process we are making progress in develop ing a meat type hog that will meet the demands of the buying public.

Income Best If Dairy Cattle Fed According To Need

COLLEGE STATION — Feed bills for a dairy herd can rapidly eat into profits if you are not careful. The total feed consumed by a herd may average out about right, but each cow is an individual and needs to be fed accordingly, points out Shannon Carpenter, associate extension county agent-dairying.

A herd of 50 cows being fed one pound per day per cow more than needed will increase your feed cost $45 per month when grain is priced at $60 per ton.

It costs even more to underfeed each cow by one pound grain per day, Carpenter continues. A cow underfed by one pound per day will produce at least two pounds less milk. At five cents per pound for milk, this amounts to a loss of $150 a month with a 50-cow herd.

If one - half the cows in a 50-cow herd are overfed one pound per day and the other half underfed one pound, the owner is spending $97.50 more for feed each month than is necessary. The total pounds fed is right, but the pocketbook receives a severe jolt.

A good pair of scales should prove to be a good investment, Carpenter adds. Weighing the feed would insure that each cow gets her share of the total and should increase the dairyman's income, concludes the specialist.

Seven Items Rate 'Plentiful' Tags

COLLEGE STATION — Three popular processed fruits stand out among foods expected to be plentiful in May, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station.

These are canned blackberries, canned freestone peaches and cranberry products.

Stocks of each are more than ample for ordinary trade needs, according to figures of the Agricultural Marketing Service. Food shoppers can anticipate special sale on these items in Texas markets this month.

Large No. 10 cans of blackberries, ideal for restaurant and institutional use, are especially plentiful. Most of these are from East Texas canneries.

Coastal Bermuda Continues To Win Many New Friends

COLLEGE STATION — Coastal Bermudagrass continues to make new friends because of its adaptability and high yielding characteristics, says George McBee, extension pasture specialist.

Spring, says the specialist, is the optimum time for planting Coastal in most sections of Texas. Fall plantings are considered best in far South Texas. Planting made now will give the plants time to become established before the beginning of the summer season.

McBee offers these suggestions for the successful establishment of a Coastal Bermuda pasture. Plant fresh, good quality sprigs. Plant in a moist seedbed which had been well prepared and is clean, level and firm. Planting Coastal in established stands of other perennial grasses usually result in a poor stand, he advises.

He suggests planting in 36 or 42-inch rows with the sprigs at 36-inches intervals in the row. This spacing will require about 9 bushels of sprigs an acre. Closer row spacing will require more sprigs but will mean a faster ground cover and less competition from weeds.

McBee recommends that fertilization be carried out in accordance with soil test findings. He says it's ideal to put the fertilizer in a band 3-4 inches to the side and below where the sprigs are placed. If weeds or other grasses are expected to give the Coastal stiff competition, it may be advisable to wait until the Coastal is growing to put down the fertilizer. He says never broadcast fertilizer on land to be planted to Coastal Bermudagrass.

Fish production and growth are hindered by muddy water. The organisms upon which fish feed are unable to thrive. Most ponds and small lakes will clear themselves without assistance following rainy periods when clay particles are washed into the pond. If the pond does not clear within a few weeks after becoming mudddy, the pond owner should investigate the problem.

The first step is to determine what is causing the pond to be muddy. Common causes include barren clay soils or cultivated fields in the watershed, wave action against clay dams or banks, livestock wadi gnin shallow water, and or rough fish, such as carp, buffalo, shad or bullhead catfish stirring up silt.

When the source of the muddy pond water is found, the next step is to eliminate this source. After this has been done, the pond can be treated with agricultural gypsum, hydrated lime, commercial alum crystals or fertilized with organic fertilizers. These treatments will usually clear the water by uniting with the negatively charged clay particles suspended in the water.

Treating the pond with clearing agents is only a temporary control for muddy water if the source of the clay particles is not eliminated.

See B-213, Improve Your Farm Fish Pond, for detailed recommendations on clearing muddy water. The bulletin is available at your county agent's office.

"Corn made about 20 bushels more per acre with Phillips 66 Ammonia"

L. N. YEAGER OF NAVASOTA, TEXAS, reports that 50 lbs. of Phillips 66 Ammonia really makes a corn crop

"On river bottom corn land I used about 50 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia per acre. It made quite a difference in yields . . . I estimate about 20 bushels per acre higher," says L. N. Yeager, who farms approximately 470 acres.

He also used Phillips 66 Ammonia on his cotton. "Four rows were fertilized, four rows were skipped. I could certainly tell the difference where ammonia was applied. Ammonia definitely helped the lint yield. I plan to use Phillips 66 Ammonia again next year on both corn and cotton."

Thousands of Texas farmers use Phillips 66 Ammonia to help assure top net profits per acre—in wet or dry years. Field reports prove that Phillips 66 Ammonia (1) produces more high grade lint (2) increases sorghum grain and corn yields (3) boosts wheat and small grain yields (4) stimulates pasture growth for more meat and milk.

See your local Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia Distributor for your supply now. You can make more money this year with this 82% nitrogen fertilizer. It can be applied by you or your distributor.
